I didn't want to miss out. I can keep going on and on. So I will. I want to thank You for the Times you took Marty and I out or let us talk. I want to thank you for letting Pam and I Be a part of you life, like letting us be ourselves even though we were really pains.

I can not say how much I mean to me cause words can not say it all but action does. But I would like To say that with everything that Has happen this year, that has Made me Smile and fill my heart with happiness it all Because of you. You have helped me look at the good side of the bad things. I Thank You So much From the Bottom of my Heart. I Appreciate everything you have done for me. I hope Someday I'll be able to take care of you. I Love You. And It hurts me very much to say goodbye. I don't want to, I Just want to say I'll meet you In heaven. I want to Keep in touch Please. Your are a very good Friend of mine. Just writing this makes me cry. I ♡ U.

Love your Forever Friend (Always)
Kay Michelle Horney

P.S. Please promise me you will Keep in touch Please. "

Ms. Shari Blackburn
1991 Highland View Academy

Dear Ms. Blackburn,

Well what can I say, I don't want to say the regular things, cause your definately not just the everyday normal young person, that's a for sure thing. But who wants to be normal?! Anyway I guess I can say that this year has gone by fast! But not without alot of memories right?! I want you to know I think your a caring person. And I think your Mom's a cutie!

Love Ya!
Christine Hollry

Dear Ms. Blackburn,

Well, this year is over! I can't believe it! Many people are so glad that school is over, but I'm more glad because If I had to stay any longer, I would die from heat stroke! Anyway sorry about the feet ~~mess~~ messages I just quit giving them. I hope I didn't make you mad!? Thank you for help me when I problems with Coryn S. things are working out great between us now! Good luck, and enjoy next year!

Love,
"A Twin"
RANA

Dear Ms. B,

It's been a pleasure working for you. I will miss you during the SUMMER I will write you this SUMMER. I Love you Ms. B. you are a Wonderful Dean!

Love always,
-Esther Rucke

Dear Ms. Blackburn,

Its the end of the year. Has it been forever or what?

Thanks so much for coming when you did. We needed you so much [redacted] You had a kind of rough start, then it smoothed out, now its rough again — but the friction is from the other side.

Ive enjoyed talking, working, & complaining with you this year (those few times I actually worked!). You have a lot of great plans, & you get so frustrated when they cant work out because.... well you know why. Just remember — "Patience is a virtue," & "Good things come to those who wait."

Thanks for all the mothering, Friday nights, RA parties, and much, much more.

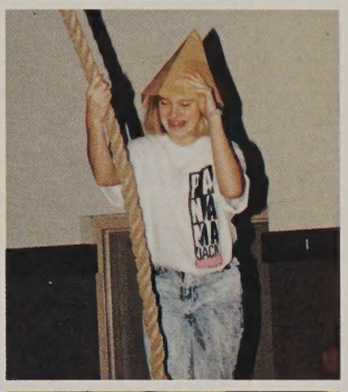

God Bless!

Love,
Charity Nettleton '91

DEDICATION

You are walking down the hall. The next thing you know, you hear someone screaming at the top of her voice. So you look in the English room and you see Mrs. Bahnsen talking excitedly to one of her classes. Whether you are her worker, her student, or her friend, you never know what she will say or do next. Her spontaneity and enthusiasm make the activities she is involved in all the more fun. She lets you sit in her black chair. She is always there to make you laugh and smile, to try to understand your problems, and to make you feel better.

The yearbook staff dedicates the 1991 Highlander to you, Morna Bahnsen.

FALL PICNIC

Labor Day, 1990. Students at Highland View Academy gathered on the campus for a day of fun, frolic, and physical exertion. The day began with a candy hunt, followed by such exciting events as the baby bottle feed, tug of war, three-in-one, inner-tube race, and the wheelbarrow race. A tractor pull added excitement to the morning.

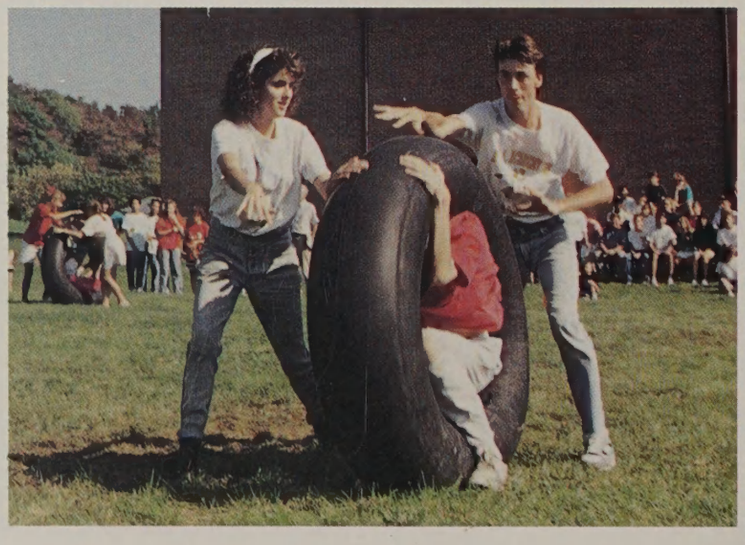

After a picnic lunch in the cafe, students quickly changed into swimming attire and headed for the Mount Aetna pool. There, they participated in various activities including the in/out inner tube race, the clothes relay, an underwater swim, and the sunken treasure hunt.

When scores were tabulated, it was revealed that the seniors won.

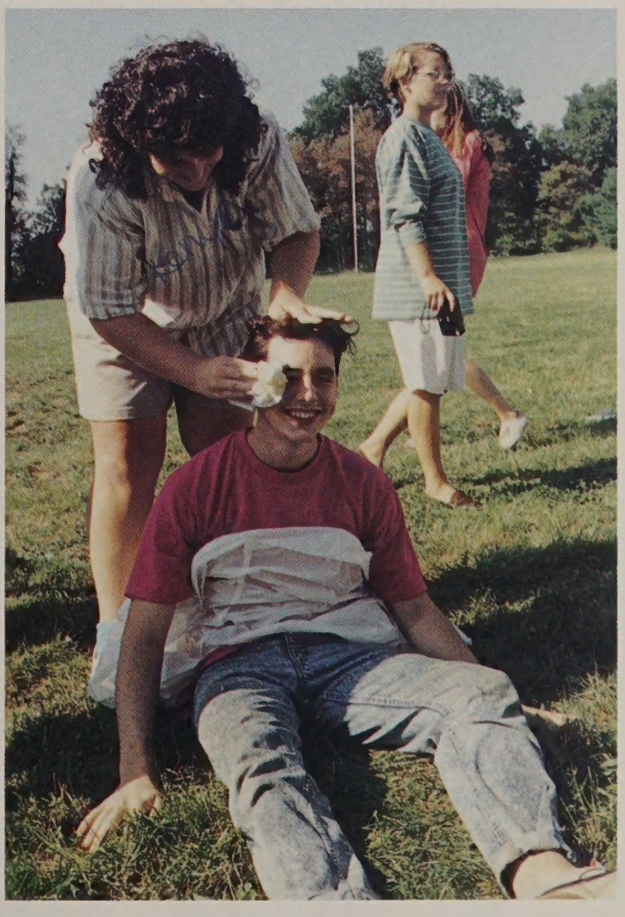

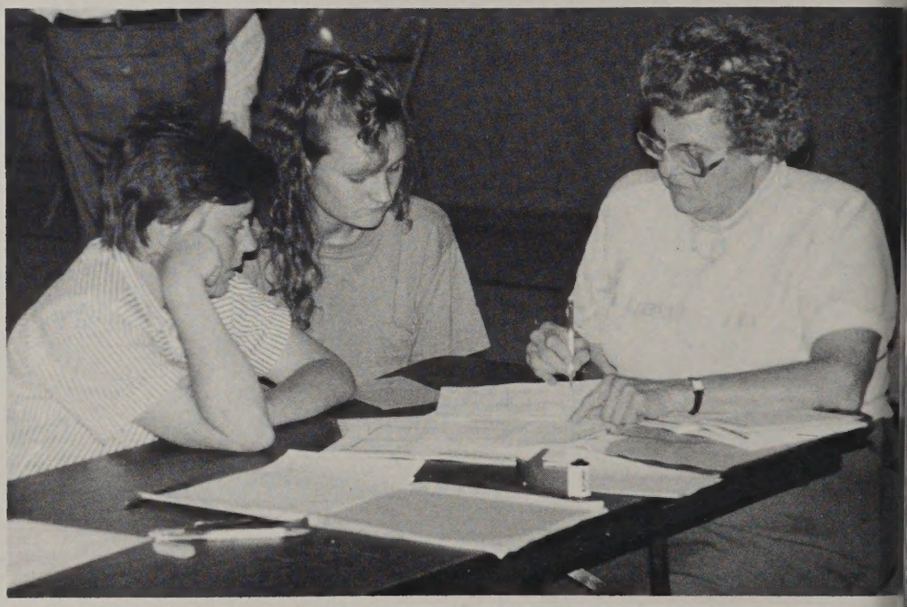

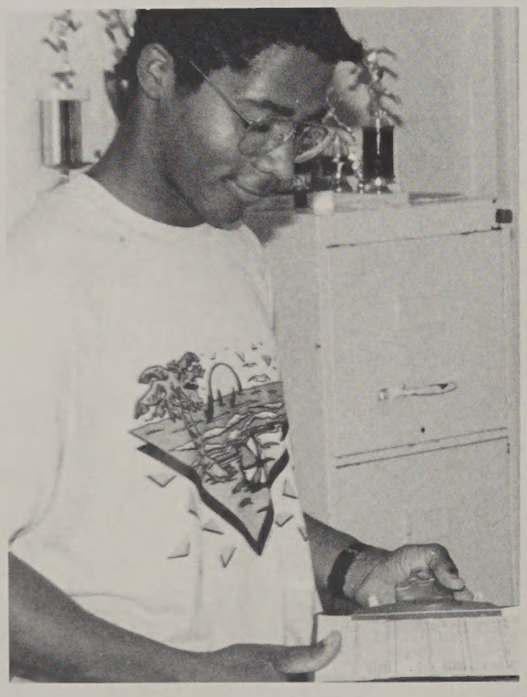

REGISTRATION

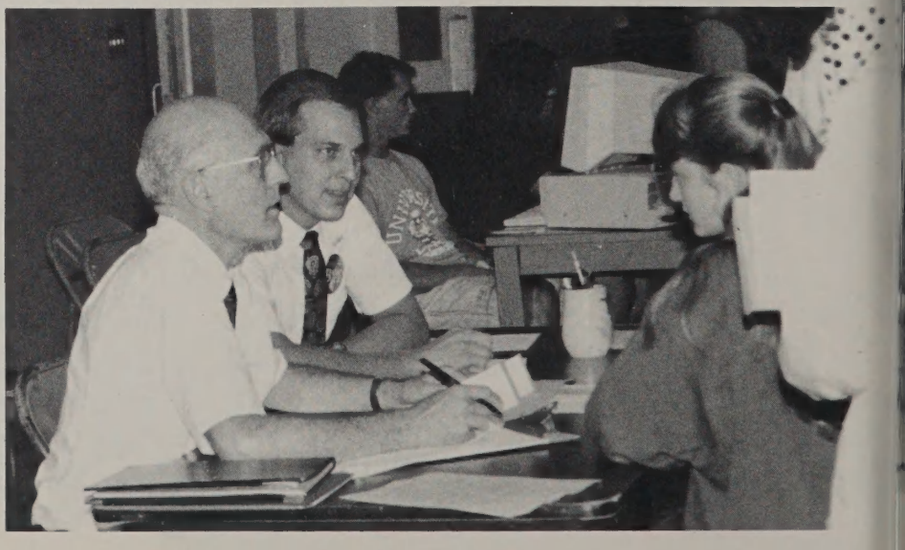

Finally, after a long summer of being apart, friends met once more at the 1990 HVA registration. Here prospective Highland View students officially registered for school. Students walked around to various tables at random, filling out paperwork in triplicate, signing up for extracurricular activities, posing for a place in the pages of the Silhouette, and of course deeply pondering which classes to sign up for (should I take Physical Science or Human Phys?). Their sojourn ended at the business office where they bought books and received their locker numbers and combinations.

After moving into the dorms, students enjoyed a picnic supper in the grove. At handshake, they were able to meet old and new friends, and play group games. The day ended with worship on the lawn.

YOUTH TO YOUTH

On September 5-6, 1990, Highland View students, along with visitors from Spencerville and Eastern Shore Junior Academies, forsook regular classes in exchange for a mini Youth-to-Youth rally. Various workshops included "Stressbusters!", "Christian Drama," and "Study Skills." Special guests Doug and Kathie Wentz from Ohio led out in assemblies, and Ron Hyrchuk, youth pastor at Sligo SDA Church, had devotionals. For two hours each day, participants met in "family groups," led by student leaders. In these groups they played games, made new friends and discussed various topics of relevance to youth. At night, students played games, exchanged warm fuzzies, and listened to inspiring talks.

LEADERSHIP WEEKEND

This year's Columbia Union Student Leadership Conference was held at Camp Mohaven in Ohio. Our school was represented by ten students. After surviving many potential disasters such as car trouble and bad weather, students arrived Thursday night just in time to play some games at the lodge. After breakfast the next morning, students attended meetings related to their particular field of leadership. On Sabbath they attended church, hiked, canoed, and finished off the weekend that night with more fun and games.

BARN PARTY

On October 13, 1990, at approximately 7:15 p.m., HVA students boarded buses for the annual Barn Party, held once again at the Carr's farm. When the students arrived, they split into groups, each taking part in five rotating activities. The activities included popcorn and cold cider combined with Tiny Toons cartoons, games, a hayride, Dr. Mayden and Pastor Disney telling stories of their teenage days around a blazing campfire, and the crowd favorite, the infamous hay maze. Following the activities, students engaged in a pumpkin carving contest. To cap off the night, sleepy students enjoyed a movie.

HIGHLAND VIEW VALLEY RUN

This year's Highland View Valley Run, held on October 14, was the culmination of a health emphasis weekend. The race, which was organized by Mr. and Mrs. Gatz, involved 165 runners in the two mile, and 60 runners in the ten kilometer. This event gave students and faculty members the chance to be involved together in running and in performing support services.

STUDENT WEEK OF PRAYER

The student week of prayer was a series of presentations in which students told stories of Bible characters and drew lessons that applied to Christians today. Each day, different students led song service and provided special music. It was a time to become closer to Christ and to enjoy listening to fellow classmates share their experiences.

CN

MIDNIGHT MASQUERADE

The evening began with the young men meeting the ladies in DeHaan Hall's lobby. As the men attempted to pin the corsages on the ladies, they tried not to pierce them. The gentlemen then escorted their dates to see Hartle Hall, which was decorated with a unique combination of little shops, art galleries, and even a working fountain. Tiny sparkling lights lined the hallways leading to the gymnasium, where Girls' Club officers welcomed the students to the Midnight Masquerade, showed them to their tables, and handed out masks. Silhouettes of scenes from the 1920's helped to create an elegant atmosphere. Guests filled their plates from buffet tables loaded with delectable cuisine. Following the meal, various musicians provided entertainment. The main feature for the evening was the showing of a classic movie.

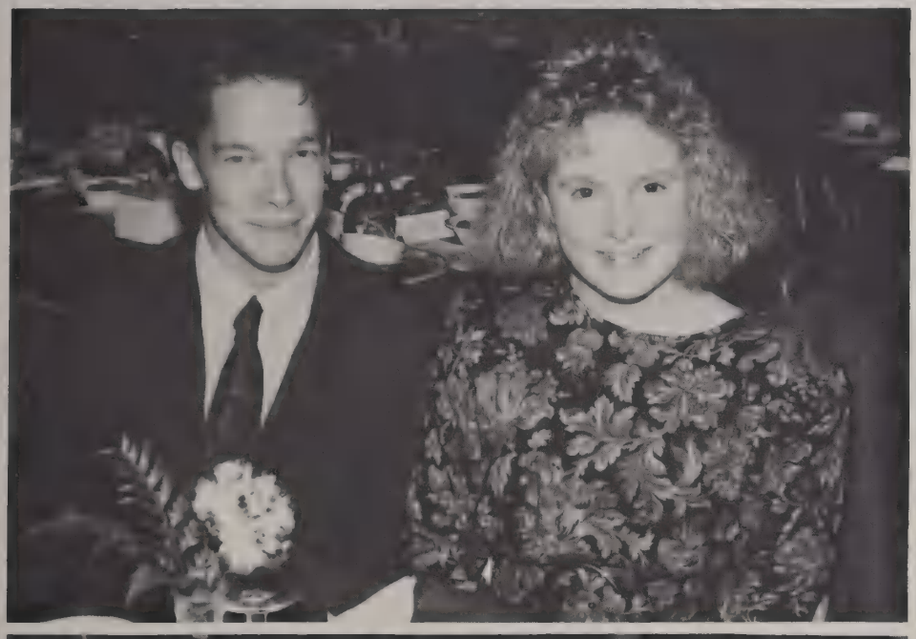

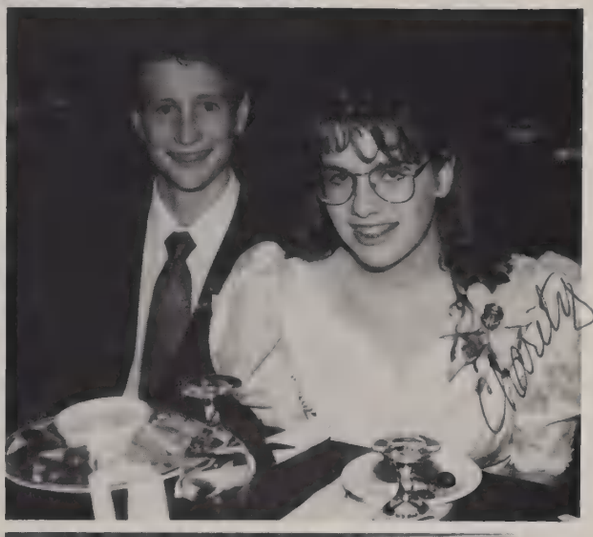

CHRISTMAS PROGRAMS

Gloria in Altissimus Deo was the title of the Christmas Vespers program performed on our campus December 7th. It featured congregation, orchestra, organ, and choir together singing carols. The gym was decorated with poinsettias, pine garlands, and Christmas trees. Following the carols, the HVA choir and community chorus presented Camille Saint-Saens' Christmas Oratorio. The oratorio featured student soloists and ensemble members.

The following week on Sabbath, the music department provided the church service. Selections by the Highlanders, bell choir 1, bell choir 2, and the concert band brought the spirit of that first Christmas closer. They filled the listeners' minds with songs and text to give them that joyous Christmas feeling.

CHRISTMAS PARTY

This year's student association Christmas party was set to the theme "Ski Chalet." Highlights included food prepared by the SA officers, music by Scott Hollinger and Ron Pride, and a skit that showed that the true spirit of Christmas was still alive! A visit from Santa and distribution of presents brought laughs and surprises to all. A film about one of Santa's lost reindeer concluded the evening.

FUN IN THE SNOW

SNOW!! What better opportunity to have fun with your friends! Snow brings images of snowmen, snow skiing, snow boarding, and snowball fights, of frozen sidewalks to slide on, and whiteness everywhere. Snow covers the trees, ground, rooftops, and cars. It makes friends feel happy inside and puts them all in a good mood.

The twelve hour trek to New England for the annual ski trip was rewarded by fresh powder skiing at Stowe and Sugarbush resorts. After three days of skiing, students still had enough energy left to participate in the Sabbath School and Church services in Barre. On Saturday night, the youth group from the church invited them to go snowmobiling. Even though they had to sleep on the floor and forego the luxury of showers for five days, a fun time was had by all.

INTRAMURALS / RECREATION

Every evening, Sunday through Thursday, there is a time slot from 6:30-7:30 that friends spend time playing games and talking. This time is called recreation, or "rec." During rec, people may play intramural sports, play volleyball or knockout, shoot baskets, or just sit around and be with their friends. Among the intramural sports are basketball, volleyball, floor hockey, indoor soccer, softball, and football.

VALENTINE'S BANQUET

A Night Away was the theme of this year's SA Valentine's banquet. After a delicious meal and musical entertainment at the Review and Herald cafeteria, the students returned to the HVA gym for a video movie. After the movie, the gentlemen bid the ladies goodnight and everyone went home.

WINTER WEEK OF PRAYER

Students from the Great Lakes Academy Aerokhanas held the winter week of prayer. Their theme was "How God Has Changed My Life." They shared personal incidents, told of failures and successes in their Christian experiences, and helped all of us to see Christ as a true Friend who is always there for us, no matter what we have done. We sang together, laughed and cried together, and became very close over the week. Highlights included a gymnastics performance, His Last Days skit, and an Agape feast.

GRANT E. WOODSIDE
MEMORIAL LIBRARY

Construction for the new wing of the ad building began when school started in September 1990. The construction process made studying in the library difficult at times. The smell of new paint seemed to add to the anticipation of completion. Finally in March 1991 we were able to move into the spacious new library, history classroom, mathematics classroom, and computer lab. The skylights and hand-made oak furniture in the library make it a beautiful place to study. With 116 new lockers, it is now possible for everyone to have his or her own locker.

RELIGIOUS ACTIVITIES

The Loaves and Fishes program is a new outreach ministry for HVA this year. A van load of students went down to Columbia Union College and helped prepare and distribute food to homeless people in the Washington DC area. Our students also prepared food and presented a program for the Union Rescue Mission in Hagerstown. It was a way to befriend those who truly needed our friendship and help.

Another outreach program that has long been popular with HVA students is the ministry to the nursing homes. This year we visited residents in the Colton Villa Nursing Home and the Williamsport Nursing Home.

A puppet ministry was also started this year.

COMMUNITY OUTREACH

The sophomore Bible classes took a day off from classes to go on a leaf-raking rampage. They raked millions of leaves for various families in the immediate area around HVA. Friends worked enthusiastically together, and many yards were cleaned up. The entire morning was profitable, and the sophomores learned that it was fun to help others.

On a Tuesday evening in December, groups of students, faculty members, and local church members went into the community to collect money for ADRA and hand out pamphlets. The students worked as partners door to door, taking turns giving the "speech". The funds raised amounted to nearly $2000. It was a witnessing experience that everyone would remember.

FINE ARTS GUILD

Amity Childers, Heather Zinke, Christine Schubert, Paula Wiesner, Heather Gatz, Kristin Netteburg, Dusty Goodrich, Eric Engen, Jennifer Minner, Jennifer Crouch, Nikki Ramirez, Kristen Bergstrom, Lynette Burgess, Kim Miles, Beckie Tucker, Todd Coulter, Veronica VanGils, Terrie Tucker, Allen Hoffman, Andrew Burrows, Eric Hoffman, Laura Klein, Bill Shalaby

Members of the Fine Arts Guild have the opportunity to see professional musicians and performers present programs in various locations in and around the Hagerstown area. For a small membership fee, students may attend half a dozen or so concerts. This years' programs included Empire Brass, Jose Greco, and Tony Sandler. As members of the guild, friends have a chance to be entertained as well as become culturally enriched.

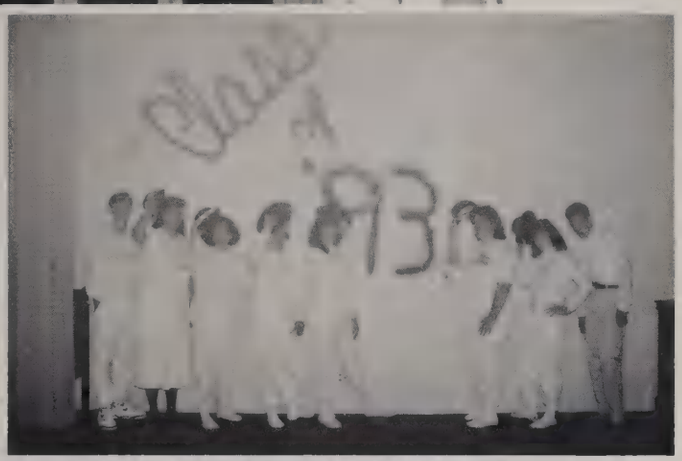

OFFICERS' ANNOUNCEMENTS

Each class tried to come up with a unique way to announce their class officers. They worked hard and planned long so that their presentation would be unforgettable.

SENIOR TALENT

Twenty-five seniors showed off their talents at the annual Senior Talent Show held on January 26. Performances ranged from comedy to acting, from singing to instrumental numbers. During the intermission, there was a bake sale and cake auction. All proceeds from the talent show went toward the class trip. The show ended with a patriotic number which had everyone standing up and showing their support for our Country.

The SENIOR CLASS of Highland View Academy presents:

More than Meets the Eye

"This doesn't look like an old woman's house."

"There is something rotten in Denmark."

"There must be some big dark secrets here."

"You mean, maybe grandmom ain't grandmom she is an imposter."

You come back late this afternoon and she'll give you an exclusive interview.

"Suppose I don't know the answers?"

"You mean maybe she isn't such a typical grandmother."

Will the real Grandma Letty please come forward?

MEN'S DORM

The men's dorm is home to approximately forty young men. Between studies, they spend time relaxing, working out in the weight room, playing ping-pong, watching television, playing basketball, or just hanging out with the guys.

CLASSES

Classes at HVA cover a broad range: from basic math to precalculus, home economics to auto mechanics; four years of English, Bible, and history; and much more. There are a total of 45 classes from which students can choose to broaden their horizons and expand their minds. Included in the course offerings are honors classes in human physiology, history and precalculus mathematics. The schedule for some students begins at 7:00 in the morning and runs until 6:20 at night. It may seem like teachers vs. students at times, but they are really all on the same side, working together to develop friendships and knowledge that will stand the test of time.

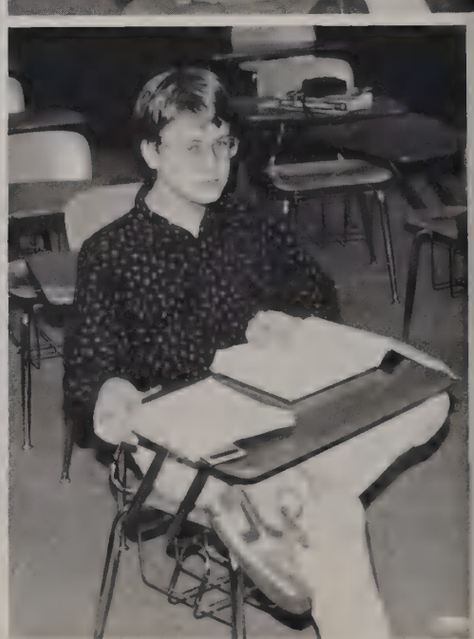

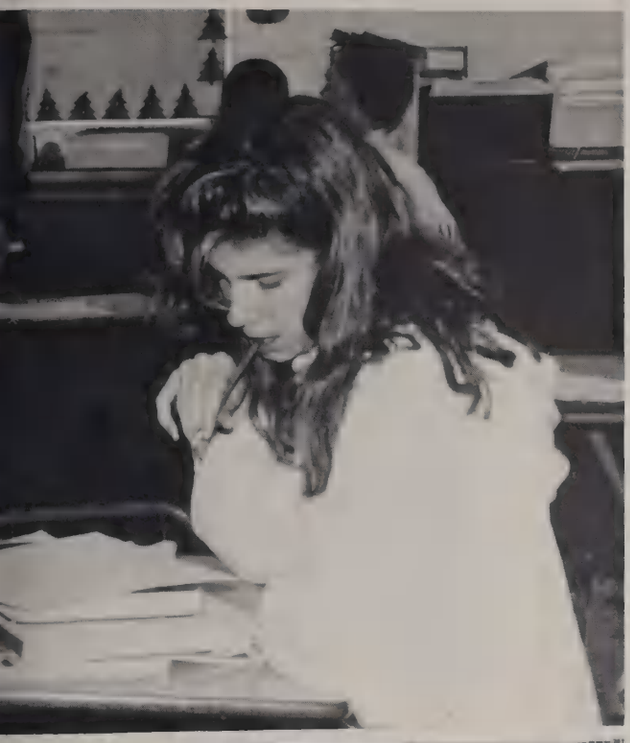

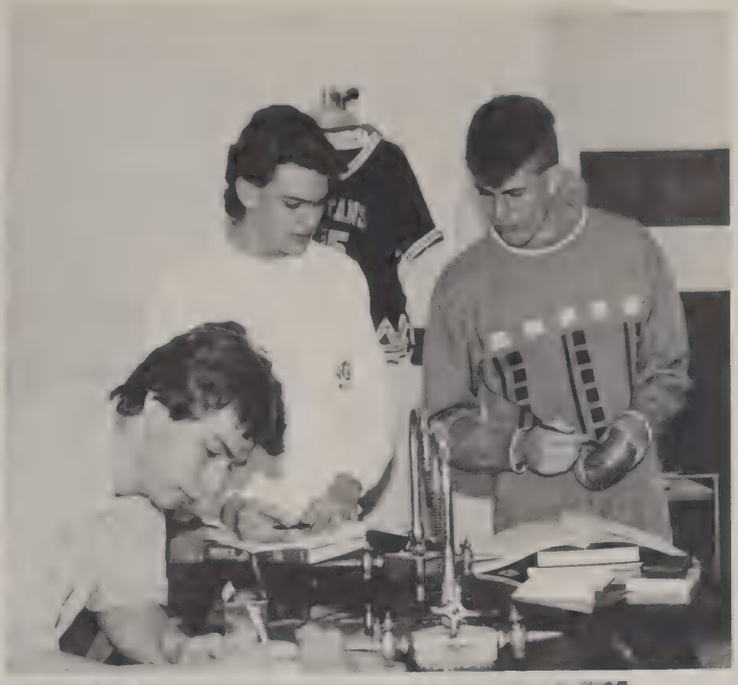

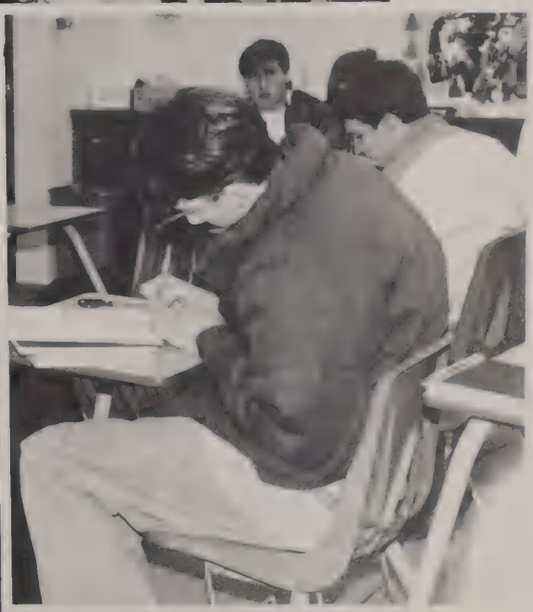

COMPOSIT

CAMPUS WORK

Many friends work together as well as go to school together. Jobs range from cafe workers to dorm monitors, from ad building workers to grounds workers. They work for many people and in many places. But most of all friends have fun while they are working.

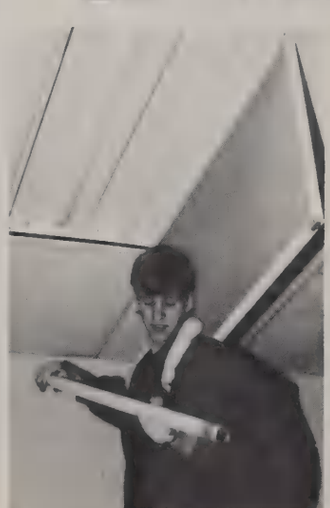

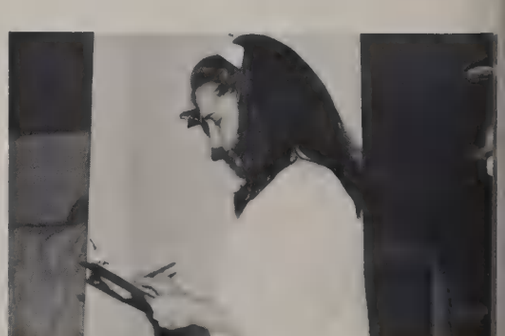

Department

WOMEN'S DORM

"Hey, woman! That shirt is so fresh! Can I borrow it tomorrow?" The girls cruise from one room to the other searching for a shirt or maybe a pair of shoes to complete the look. The lobby is the place for action, though. The girls can be seen laughing and talking on the sofas, playing games, catching a little television, playing the piano, or the favorite-tying up the phone lines.

I hope you think
I did a little
OK on the Floor.
It wasn't easy. But
I learned alot.

OFF-CAMPUS WORK

Some of the students from HVA seek employment at locations away from the campus. Every day they make the commute to such destinations as the Golden Arches, Hadley Farms, or the Review and Herald. Even though their jobs require more inconvenience than on-campus work, they feel that the extra effort is worth it.

HOBBS' DINER

The cafeteria is a place where friends can relax and enjoy fine food and company. Many students look forward to the lunch break. Three times a day, seven days a week, the Hobbs or Mrs. Jackson and the crew have something good ready and waiting.

GIRLS' CLUB

First semester Girls' Club officers: Jane Yang, pastor; Christine Hamm, senator; Jenny Harding, treasurer; Connie Gibb, secretary; Jessica Hughes, sergeant-at-arms; Lynette Burgess, president; Shari Blackburn, sponsor; Laura Smith, vice-president

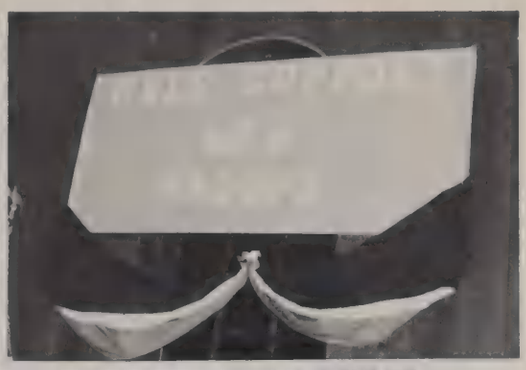

Second semester Girls' Club officers: Shanda Dornburg, president; Anne Swayze, sponsor; Diedre Cromwell, treasurer; Heather Tydings, senator; Nikki Ramirez, sergeant-at-arms; Lynette Brown, secretary; Kelly Beard, pastor; Paula Wiesner, vice president

Girls' Club this year has done many things to occupy the time and thoughts of the ladies of HVA. Planning activities for the ladies on club nights is only one aspect of Girls' Club. This year, they hosted the Midnight Masquerade banquet, planned the halloween costume party, and organized the Secret Sis campaign. Sometimes guest speakers come to present programs to the ladies. One such program featured Lieutenant Jordan from Fort Richie, who came to share how we could help support people whose family members are serving in the Middle East conflict.

BOYS' CLUB

First semester officers: Justin Woody, vice-president; David Ottati, president; Flyder DeCastro, treasurer; Robert Mollock, pastor; Tony Veney, secretary; Bill Shalaby, sergeant-at-arms

Bill Shalaby, vice president

Boys' Club is an organization for all the young men of HVA, both those in the dorm and from the community. Thursday night is usually the time when Boys' Club meets. Events in which the guys participate include weight lifting meets and arm wrestling matches. Sometimes they have joint activities with the girls. Other times they go to the YMCA to play racquetball, work out, swim, or just hang out. Boys' Club sponsors a camping trip in the fall, and caving trips at various times throughout the year.

Jessica,

We are so very proud of you. Hard work and determination have helped you to succeed with the many challenges that you have faced in the past three years.

You are deeply loved by your family and the Lord. With your talents and God's help, there is nothing you can't accomplish.

Love,
Dad, Mom & Mike

Jes,

Please don't forget this part of our lives together. We've had a lot of special times. I love you so much and wish the best for you. Thank you for everything.

Forever your sister and friend,
Lil

FLYING HIGH

Ross Bartlett, we want to take this space to tell you how really proud we are of you. All parents are justifiably proud of their seniors but we feel that we have reason to be especially proud of you. And it is not that we do not have experience on which to base a judgment as you are the youngest of our ten children. You are all that parents might wish for in a son. Scholastically you are tops! With seven major subjects this year including chemistry, physics, and pre-calculus you are, at this writing, a straight A student. At home you are as pleasant and understanding a son as any parents might wish for. In a world of disoriented teenagers who fill their time and minds with rock music and inane TV fare, it has been a real pleasure to see you turn to news-in-depth on CNN for your TV watching.

Should anyone reading this conclude that we have what teenagers call a "geek" for a son, we will hasten to state our pride in your athletic achievements also. You have become a committed motocross rider and, considering your brief two years of riding, you have really achieved a lot. You are the only rider in the Middle Atlantic Motocross Association who has gone from Novice to Expert in a single year for these past two years. Underscoring your commitment to life, you have worked very hard to make your own motocross and supercross tracks here on our farm near Frederick and you have maintained a training program that has kept you in the superior condition required to win at motocross. Your wide circle of friends in motocross, which is the fastest growing teenage sport in the country, attests to your pleasant personality and winning ways. Always remember, Ross, that with God the most important part of your life you can achieve anything you desire — "THE SKY IS THE LIMIT" — the only limit.

Jeff,

Your development and accomplishments thus far in your life have made us VERY proud of you.

Though there have been a few "bumps" along the way and some people may not consider you to be "an angel," we cannot imagine having a better son than the one we have.

It has pleased us to watch your progress and maturity at HVA. As you go on to college we will be there to support you and stand by you.

We will always miss our little boy but we dearly love the young man that has replaced him in our lives today.

With love,

The Proud Parents of Jeffrey Michael Davis

Jr. Seidl,

To you, who believes in life, in people, in love and in happiness, our deepest appreciation for being so special, for being so you! We love you dearly and wish that after completing this cheerful phase of your life, academy days, you may face your tomorrow with hopeful eyes, trusting that the challenges of each day ahead of you will only serve to make you stronger and happier. Count on the Lord and on us for we are together!

Love,

Dirci, Haroldo and Paulo

Mi querida Johanna,

Having you live with me most of your senior year has been a real joy. You have truly been a blessing. May God watch over and bless "mi hija" as you go from HVA to serve Him siempre.

Yo te amo,

Mother

Señora Grove

To my wonderful son, Flyder who has continued to give me great joy and pride in his accomplishments.

Thank you,

Mom

Dear Jayson,

We are so proud of you. Life with you has been interesting, challenging, and so much fun.

Let the Lord continue to guide you.

Love,

Mom, Dad, Kim

Dearest David,

It doesn't seem possible that you are all ready to venture out on your quest for a college education and a future of helping to heal the "World's wounded hearts!"

How quickly the years have flown and how happy we are to have shared them with you. We are very proud of you and pray God's richest blessings will follow you wherever your promising future leads you!

Love you!

Mom & Dad

CONGRATULATIONS !!!! Pam

Dear sweetheart,

You've managed another step forward in life. We are so very proud of you and your accomplishments. May your determination lead you to a good future and success in life.

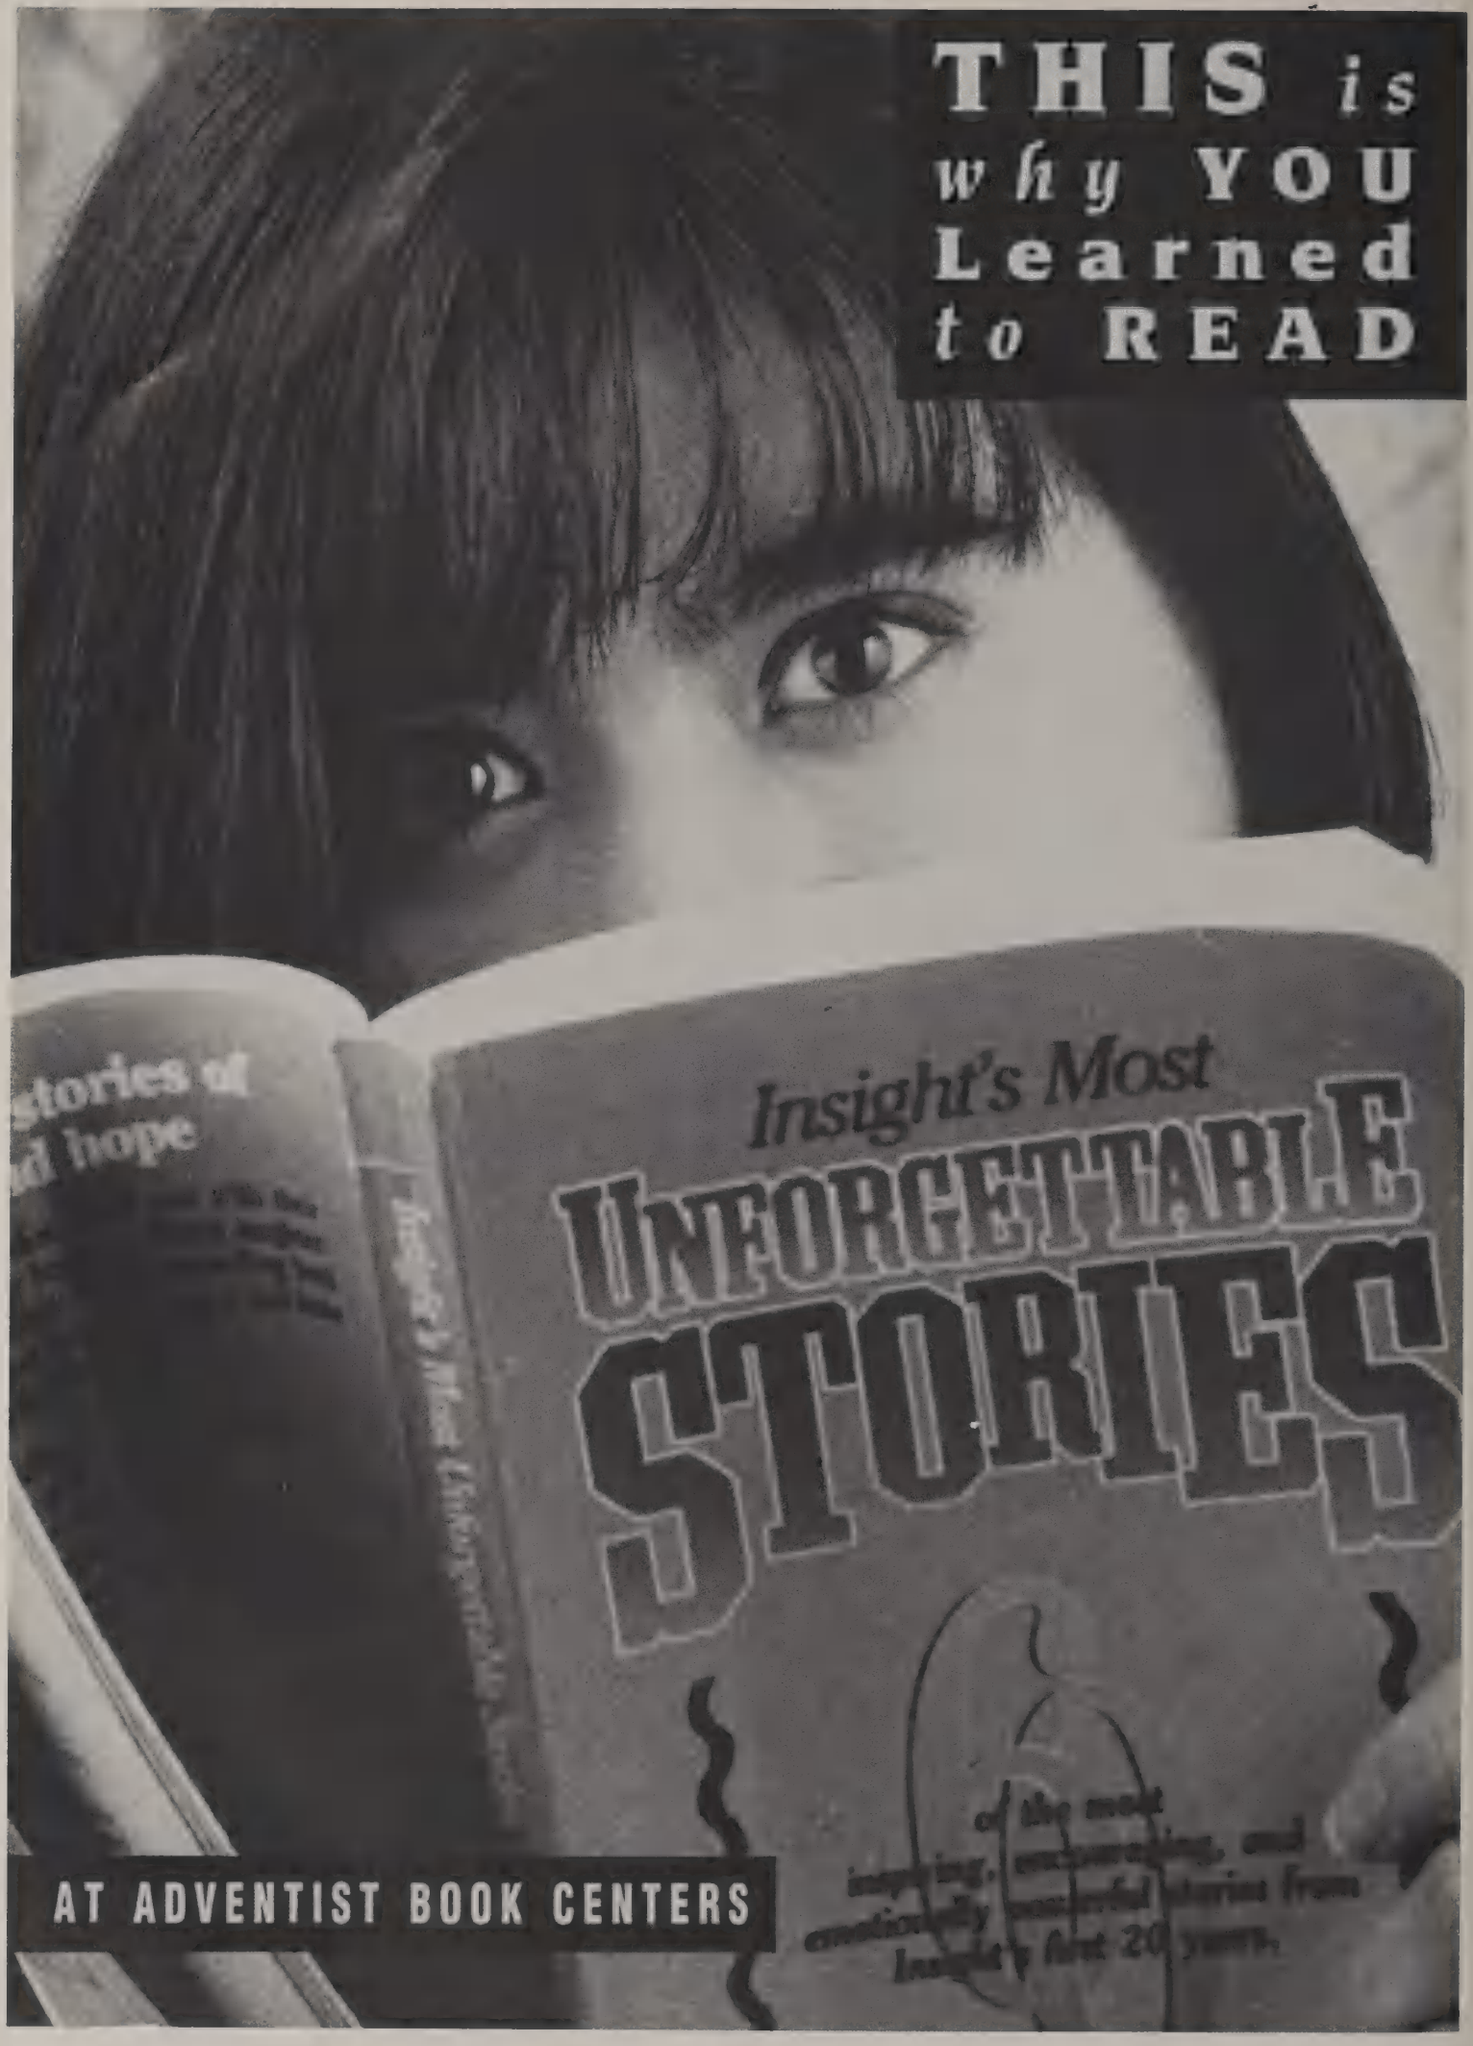

Always remember to put God first and let Him guide you. You will see how impossibilities will become possibilities.

LOVE YOU ALWAYS,

Mom, Dad and Dawn Hytinen

We'd like you to meet a few Pioneers.

Quite a few, actually.

The 60 athletes above represent a larger group of more than 200 students involved in athletic programs at Columbia Union College. We thought that seeing these athletes assembled on our campus would help people understand that when we talk about athletics at CUC, we're not talking about a program that benefits an elite few.

We're talking grass roots support. Athletes from all over the country, participating in eight sports. Students who might not have attended an Adventist college if it hadn't offered athletic programs. Students who are learning the value of team work and Christian sportsmanship. Students who believe that their church recognizes all kinds of talents and has a place for them. And students who are learning how athletics within church guidelines can be a Christian witness.

If you'd like more information on men's or women's basketball, track and field, cross country, tennis, sports acrobatics; men's soccer; or women's volleyball and softball, call Columbia Union College toll-free.

We'd like to see you in the picture next year.

EDITOR'S MESSAGE

It seems like everything has already been written or said about friendship. And somehow it has lost the impact and feeling. But when you stop and think, you realize just how important it is.

Your mind drifts back to all those strange pictures, letters, and "surprise" birthday parties. The heart-to-heart talks, followed by tears and warm hugs. And all the growing up you've done in four short years.

When it's all said and done, what you take with you for the rest of your life are the wonderful memories and friendships that have been made. I hope when you read this yearbook that you remember and sit back and laugh with your friends, because that's the theme and the whole reason for this yearbook.

I'd especially like to thank my best friends for being one of the most special things in my life. I'll never forget you. Also, I'd like to add a note of thanks to my fabulous staff and sponsors who gave many hours for this yearbook.

Heather Tydings

Mom,

Well the year is almost ended. I'm glad But not, cause I have a hard time saying goodbye. (especially you). I don't know where to start so I guess I'll start when I met you. I had been gone when I was sick and I come back and you were here as the new dean. I will be honest at first I was very scared to have you here because everyone was so negative. But when you took me under your wing when I was sick and took care of me like a mom would. I knew right then that you was going to be a Great Dean. You had a Mommys touch. And you cared, thats the main point. Alot of things have happen in the Dorm that drove us all Crazy but you still stayed calm. When ever something went wrong you were always there and always made things better. I personally don't know what I would have done without you. You have pushed me in the right way even if it hurt at times It helped in the long run. I Don't mean pushed in a bad way, I mean it in a good way cause there are lots of times when I need a good kick in the butt.

I will always remember you inviting Pam and I into your apartment to eat or to just talk as friends. You always shared food with us and kept us healthy. Remember the time when Pam and Lynette and I had the cake and frosting fight and it went everywhere. That was so much fun. I think we should do it again but with Honey and pudding? Hella sick. Scared ya Didn't I!!! Remember our late night talks. I shared with you things I would never had shared with no one. That shows you how much I Trust you. I always be greatful for all the many times you have went out of you way for me. let me refresh your memory. When I was sick During the last week of prayer you took me out to get a perm and I thought it would be 2 hours and it ended up being about 3½ to 4. I thought you were going to strangle me or even lock me in my room. Or how about the times you would let me use your oven or go watch T.V. or maybe hid from everyone else. Or taking me to the Counselor and took another time after the counselor you took me skating cause

Dear mama Blackburn,

I remember when you first came here & your comment in worship was to avoid men until the proper time. & if we wanted to know when it was we'd have to come talk to you later. (Well, your wooden barreled man kinda summed it up in it's own words!)

The Girls Club banquet was the BEST banquet I've ever been to. Thankyou for all of your time and dedacation to us. you are the most patient person I can imagine could ever work here.

If I may recall Tripple Trouble had some pretty fun times in your apt. Pizza feeds. Icecream parties, and we can't forget those marvelous food fights! By the way, how's the icing on that ceiling of yours? Well, I might not be able to cook very well but I guess I'll manage with grilled cheese sandwiches!

Let's hope next year will be a better adventure with your apt. Trying to fix the window on your door and leaky pipes aint what women want to be doing. Expecially when a person like Sterndale or Woody-sir. could be doing the job— (with in the next five years!) Well, by the end of this year will have to canive something up with the "Boys". I love ya- Keep in Touch. Gona Miss Ya!

Pamela

Dear Miss Blackburn,

It's been fun getting to know you this year. Thanks for letting me watch T.V. Wednesday night. Remember the late nights, the Christmas Party. Thanks for being a friend. I know you were trying to help & I appreciate it really, but I think it's over. Maybe it was for the best. Yes, I will come back and visit. I will miss you next year. You were like a sister. Next year don't let people or things bug you, it's hard. I still think you would make a better head Dean.

Thanks for listening to my problems. Have a great summer. Stay your sweet crazy self. Good luck next year.

Love,
Rachelle

P.S. Is it Wednesday Night? :)

Dear Miss Blackburn,

It's been a real blast getting to know you this year you've been a great Dean. Never forget the night the senior girls decorated the lobby for Christmas. Stay out of trouble. HA! HA! Well, at least try. Thanks for all you've done for me this year, like putting up with me, ect. Keep in touch.

Love,
April
